Lifetime Achievement Award Presented to PBS's Bill Moyers World Press Freedom Fighters Honored

New York, N. Y. – September 25, 2006 (Revised October 13, 2006) The 27th Annual News & Documentary Emmy® Awards were presented by the National Academy of Television Arts & Sciences tonight at a black-tie ceremony at the Marriott Marquis hotel in New York. During the ceremony, the Lifetime Achievement Award was given to PBS journalist Bill Moyers. Moyers was honored for his contributions as a television journalist and documentarian over more than three decades. Presenters of the Lifetime Achievement Award included his wife and business partner Judith Davidson Moyers, legendary newsman Walter Cronkite, past Chairman/CEO of CNN News Group Tom Johnson, and PBS President/CEO Paula Kerger.

Also at this ceremony, three press organizations --New York-based Committee to Protect Journalists, The International Press Institute (Vienna) and Reporters Without Borders (Reporters sans Frontieres), headquartered in Paris – were honored for their work in the defense of freedom of the press worldwide. Accepting these awards were Terry Anderson, honorary chairman, Committee to Protect Journalists, and former Associated Press Beirut bureau chief, who was held hostage for nearly seven years in Lebanon; Johann Fritz, Director, International Press Institute; Robert Menard, Secretary General, Reporters Without Borders.

The 27th Annual News & Documentary Awards will be telecast on C-Span at a later date to be announced. In addition, selected winners will be featured on the jumbo screens on NASDAQ Tower in New York's Times Square. All the nominees for the first Broadband Emmy for News & Documentary can now be seen, in their entirety, on the New York Times website, www.nytimes.com/newsemmys.
